

Choice and Consequences

Choices lead to consequences, or results. The consequences of your choices can be good or bad. They can be expected or surprising.

Read these statements. For each situation, write a good choice and its consequence. Then write a bad choice and its consequence.

1. Your Mom says you can watch television when your homework is done.

Good choice: _____

Consequence: _____

Bad choice: _____

Consequence: _____

2. You did not study for the math test. You can see the answers on Joe's paper. He is good in math.

Good choice: _____

Consequence: _____

Bad choice: _____

Consequence: _____

3. Everyone makes fun of Barbara. You don't make fun of her. It bothers you when others do.

Good choice: _____

Consequence: _____

Bad choice: _____

Consequence: _____